CHIANTI

A TUSCAN CLASSIC SINCE THE 13TH CENTURY

This renowned red must be made from at least 80% Sangiovese grapes, from the Chianti Classico region featuring different altitudes, different soil types and with different exposures. Each type with its own characteristics and requirements for region of origin, grape varieties, and aging:

CHIANTI CLASSICO

A premium Chianti from the Classico region made with at least 80% Sangiovese grapes and aged for at least 10 months. The bottle features a famous black rooster seal.

CHIANTI RISERVA

Aged beyond standard Chianti—38 months—and features softened tannins.

CHIANTI GRAN SELEZIONE

A type of Chianti made using grapes from outside the Classico region and aged for at least 9 months.
